Friday, November 15, 2024 (in person and online)

Parliamentary Privilege in Practice

While sometimes relegated to the shadows of public attention, parliamentary privilege has been in the spotlight in recent months both at the federal and provincial levels. This seminar explores some of the least understood but most foundational elements of our parliamentary system, bringing together practitioners and academics.

Parliament and the Media

The media landscape is changing rapidly and Canadians are obtaining their news and information in ways one couldn't conceive of just a few years ago. The relationship between Parliament and the media is also evolving, as parliamentarians leverage social media and other direct communications tools. This seminar explores the relationship between Parliament and the media - past, present, and future.

THE CANADIAN STUDY OF PARLIAMENT GROUP (CSPG) is dedicated to enhancing the understanding of parliamentary government and institutions by promoting research and dialogue on legislative systems in Canada. To that end, we are pleased to offer a series of non-partisan seminars on parliamentary and legislative topics with presentations from experts in the field. The seminars are bilingual – simultaneous interpretation is provided – and open to all.
